Common questions our clients frequently ask. If you have a specific question not listed, please contact us.

How does your consulting service work?

Once our initial surveys are completed and determinations are made as to your company's exact needs, we will enter into a 1-year contract. The terms and services will be outlined in the contract. The service will be tailored specifically to your requirements. The services will then be scheduled with your management on a weekly basis. With the exception of the training program development, all services will be performed on an hourly basis.

My insurance company does that for me, why should I pay you also?

Yes, many insurance companies employ competent safety professionals. However, most of the companies do not actually conduct the training. The surveys done by your insurance company are reports that list all of your company's discrepancies and recommendations. Most of the time you are left on your own to implement their recommendations. If you do not or cannot, you may be faced with future increases in premiums, loss of whatever discounts you may be receiving or termination of your coverage.

I already have a consultant/service, what will you do differently?

Wonderful, then you may not need our service. There are many skilled and qualified consultants available to you; I feel that we are among that group. However, we are different from many of them because we carry our own Errors and Omissions coverage and our own Workers Compensation Insurance. If your present service makes all of this available to you, for such an affordable price, we encourage you to stay with them; if not, you may want to consider what we can do for you.

OSHA (MOSH) is not a problem because we have never been inspected.

We understand and in most cases that is true. We do, however, anticipate OSHA (MOSH) to become even more aggressive with its inspections and fines in the future.
